Newsletter 1st March 2019

Dear Parents and Community Members,

This morning, a group of children bravely helped in the cold cleaning the statue and signs at the crossroads. It was a messy job, but worthwhile I feel, so please do have a look at their work when passing school. May I apologise in advance to the parents of children involved as coats got a little splashed.

Children have also been starting to think about our forthcoming journey through Lent and we will be asking children to make Lenten promises. It was very moving to hear some of the children's thoughts about this in worship this week.

The Spring term is now more than half way through and with the Easter break so late this really is the last push for children preparing for tests this year. Please see letters coming out today about meetings for parents where you will find out about how you can support your child. If you are unable to attend we will send out information, however we urge you to come if you can.

Have a lovely weekend,

Alison Patchett

World Book Day 2019

We are looking forward to celebrating WBD 2019 in school on Thursday 7th March. We aim to foster a lifelong love of literature at Bournebrook and to support this, the following activities have been planned for the children:

Dress as a book character

Back by popular demand, all children from Nursery to Y6 are invited to come to school dressed as a favourite book character.

Take a SHELFIE

We invite children to send in a picture of themselves next to their book shelf at home or reading their favourite book for a display in school.

Story Sharing

At the end of the day, children will be sharing a story with some of their House friends. If any parents can offer to read a short story to a group of children, please let us know - we would love you to join us!

We hope your child enjoys all of the planned activities. Don't forget, children will also be receiving a £1.00 book token.
